1. Those standing for election make themselves available, in person, at the District meeting at which elections are being held.
2. Those making themselves available then qualify themselves to the voting body. Qualifying usually entails stating how long one has been sober, what previous service positions one has held, and any other special skills one might feel will help them serve in the specific position.
3. Candidates, after qualifying, will then leave the room so that the voting body may have discussion, if necessary, and vote.
4. To be elected, a candidate must have substantial unanimity, hereby defined as 2/3 majority.
5. Should substantial unanimity not be reached in 3 votes, the top two candidates' names will be placed in a hat. One name will be drawn from the hat. That candidate will be considered the winner.

 - b. Expenses over the allocated travel budgets, if approved by the body would come from the bank balance.

Appendix C – General Information

Home Group Business Meetings

What are they, and why have them?

The home group is the foundation of the Fellowship. Regular business meetings may give more of a realization of the home group principle when the members see that they are working in unity to take care of business matters.

Most groups find it difficult to really discuss these issues at the regular group meetings. Many attendees may not be home group members, may be impatient to get on with the discussion meeting, etc.

Business meetings allow members of the group to discuss business matters which affect the Group, District, or AA as a whole. Without discussion, the group simply voices an opinion, not an informed group conscience. Most commonly the group meets in order to voice an informed group conscience on issues of group finances, group policy, district issues, and other General Service issues. Many groups have found that these regular business meetings have contributed to their group identity and unity within the group, the district, the area, and the General Service structure as a whole.

What kind of business is conducted?

This can be anything of interest to the group (See pamphlet P-16, “The AA Group”). Several examples are:

2. Election of new group trusted servants.
3. Complete financial reporting from group treasurer.
4. Determine Group distribution of excess funds.
5. Determine group conscience on issues of interest with the local district.
6. Planning group participation in carrying the message outside of the group i.e., sponsoring corrections meetings, workshops, etc.
7. Many groups schedule a group inventory on an annual or biannual basis. Having a regular group inventory may help many groups avoid problems and thus, maintain their vitality.

The “Home Group” Business Meetings

When a group conscience is to be arrived at, it is essential that the members be given all the facts, both pro and con, which are relevant to the issue. In many cases it may be helpful if individual members are asked to look into these pros and cons of the issues and make a presentation during the business meeting.

Some groups have set up a panel which studies the aspects of an issue. This panel will meet prior to the business meeting to share their information with each other in order to reach a better understanding of the issue. They then present what they have learned to the group in a panel/discussion format. A good panel as well as a good GSR will inform the group of both sides of any issue so that a truly informed group conscience can be obtained.

What is an “Informed Group Conscience”?

The group conscience is the collective conscience of the group membership and thus represents substantial unanimity on an issue before definitive action is taken. This is achieved by the group members through the sharing of full information, individual points of view, and the practice of AA principles. To be fully informed requires a willingness to listen to minority opinions with an open mind on sensitive issues; the group works slowly discouraging formal motions until a clear sense of its collective view emerges. Placing principles before personalities, the membership is wary of dominant opinions. Its voice is heard when a well-informed group arrives at a decision. The result rests on more than a "yes" or "no" count precisely because it's the spiritual expression of the group conscience.

The term "informed group conscience" implies that pertinent information has been studied and all views have been heard before the group votes. (The AA Group, page 34-35)

What is the "Right of Decision"?

Every trusted servant and every AA entity-at all levels of service-has the right "to decide ... how they will interpret and apply their own authority and responsibility to each particular problem or situation as it arises." That is, they can "decide which problems they will dispose of themselves and upon which matters they will report, consult, or ask specific direction." This is "the essence of 'The Right of Decision.'"

Bill warned against using "The Right of Decision" as an excuse for failure to make the proper reports of action taken; or for exceeding a clearly defined authority; or for failing to consult the proper people before making an important decision. (The Twelve Concepts for World Services Illustrated, Concept III).

GSR Functions

The GSR has the job of linking the AA group with AA as a whole. The GSR has the responsibility of representing their Home Group at District and Area functions. In most cases, this requires the GSR to report his/her group's conscience based on informed discussions of an issue. In other cases, GSRs make decisions based on their knowledge of the group's will. The GSR also brings information regarding service opportunities back to the group. Each GSR attends the Washington State East Area 92 Spring and Fall Assemblies to vote their groups' conscience on Area business. There are a variety of other specific functions that a GSR needs to attend to carry the message of the home group. Below is a brief description of each:

Monthly District Meetings

GSR's report on Home Group activities, so that other GSR's become aware of how other groups are doing, and how they are solving group problems. The District financial report is gone over to see how the district stands for money, and any other concerns of the home group, district, area and AA as a whole are discussed. The D.C.M. brings back important Area information to the GSRs to be taken back to the home group for discussion. District 22 holds the monthly business meeting at 4:00 p.m. on the third Sunday of each month at Pullman Regional Hospital, in Conference Room C and D, 835 SE Bishop Blvd, Pullman, WA 99163.

Pre-Conference Spring Assembly

The Pre-Conference Spring Assembly is the first weekend in April. Along with Area business, the pros and cons of some GSC motions are discussed until there are no more questions as time permits. The Delegate will take this conscience to the GSC. If the GSR's home group still has no conscience, he/she make take the information learned at the assembly to the home group, form a conscience and give it to the Delegate.

Fall Assembly

The Fall Assembly happens the third weekend in October. After getting the "informed group conscience" of the home group on motions to be presented at the Fall Assembly, the GSR attends this 3 day event of all GSR.s in the area to discuss and vote on each motion. After all motions are discussed and voted on, the GSR takes the outcome of the Fall Assembly back to their Home Group to let their members know what business took place and the results. Area Elections of Delegate, Alt. Delegate, etc.... take place in odd-year Fall Assemblies. Area Inventories take place in even numbered years.

The Delegates Report

The Delegates Report, held after the delegate gets back from the Conference in April, is where the districts get together with the delegate to go over what happened at the conference. What Conference agenda items have passed, or failed, and why are discussed. The delegate also brings back any pertinent information concerning AA as a whole that the groups need to know.

Who is the Area Committee?

Basically, the area committee is composed of all District Committee Members, Area Officers, and chairs of area service committees. There should be enough Districts and Committee Members to ensure good communication between the committee and the groups. In the absence of the D.C.M., the alternate D.C.M. is a voting member. (2008-2009 Service Manual, page S36-37)

What is an Area Quarterly?

A Quarterly is where anyone can bring motions and concerns of their districts/groups before the area committee to decide what will be on the Assembly agenda. The quarterly begins around 4 p.m. on Friday, with a general sharing session, and possibly panel discussions or round table discussions. Saturday business starts 8 am, with elected and appointed officer reports, Assembly reports, ad-hoc committee reports, and sometimes there will be bids on who would like to host the upcoming quarterlies. Then after lunch the discussion starts on the motions brought forward by the districts. Each potential agenda item is discussed thoroughly before any vote is taken. The votes in question will decide whether said motions will appear on the Assembly agenda. The criteria for this decision is based on whether the motion in question is worded clearly, and whether the motion in question breaks any traditions.

What are Standing Committee Workshops?

Standing committee workshops are held on a quarterly basis. These workshops serve to allow district committees the opportunity to benefit from the experience of the area committees and the area as a whole. Questions are asked and answers are considered. These workshops, typically, are held on Saturdays and last 4 hours.

What Does the Delegate Do?

The Delegate has a demanding job, not only because a large amount of time and work are involved, but because it is the delegate's responsibility to serve worldwide AA as voting members of the Conference. Delegates bring to its deliberation the experience and viewpoints of their own areas. Yet they are not representatives of their areas in the usual political sense; after hearing all points of view and becoming fully informed during Conference discussion, they vote in the best interest of AA as a whole. (Service

What is the Conference and Why is the Group Conscience Important?

The final agenda for any Conference consists of items suggested by individual AA members, delegates, trustees, area assemblies, and directors and staff members of A.A.W.S. and The Grapevine. The Conference considers matters of policy for AA as a whole, and there are tried-and-true procedures for placing an item on the agenda in the most effective way or, when the suggestion does not concern overall policy, for routing it to the most appropriate part of the service structure. If a GSR has an idea for an agenda item, chances are that he or she will want to discuss it first with the group, then at a district or area meeting, which can then forward it to the staff member at G.S.O. currently serving as Conference coordinator. (Service Manual, S-51)

What is G.S.O.?

The General Service Office is where all the day-to-day business of AA as a whole happens. G.S.O. serves all groups in the U.S. and Canada, and also offers services to AAs overseas, especially in countries where there is no service structure. It serves as a clearing house and exchange point for the wealth of AA experience accumulated over the years, coordinates a wide array of activities and services, and oversees publications and distribution of AA Conference-approved literature and service manuals. (Service Manual, Page S-71)

What is the Service Manual?

The Service Manual is the general guidelines by which we AA's conduct our business. It includes the responsibilities/qualifications of specific service positions, also describing functions, links of communications and responsibilities of the A.A.W.S. and the Grapevine which are separately organized.

Information On Contributions

As discussed in the AA pamphlet, Self-Support: Where Money and Spirituality Mix: "To help support AA's essential services, the General Service Conference suggests that individual groups, through an informed group conscience, adopt a specific contribution plan tailored to meet the group's financial situation. Once the basic group expenses have been taken care of (rent, refreshments, AA literature, local meeting lists, GSR travel expenses to attend service functions), and a "prudent reserve" has been set aside to cover any emergency contingencies that might arise, the group may decide to further carry the message by sending money..."

Contributions to the District

This covers the cost of rent, printing of schedules, purchasing literature, and other expenses, such as reimbursing the expenses of District Trusted Servants (stamps, phone, copying, quarterlies, etc.).

Contributions to the Washington State East Area 92

Covers the costs of coordinating the efforts of the service structures throughout the Area, such as Area Newsletter, literature for committees and expenses of Area Trusted Servants.

Contributions to the General Service Office in New York

Appendix E – Robert's Rules – Simplified!

The Basic Rules of Parliamentary Procedure:

The organization (committee) has the right to make its own rules which then must be observed by all members. All (voting) members are equal and their rights are equal.

A quorum must be present to do business.

- In a committee, a quorum is the majority of its (voting) members.

The majority rules.

- The minority has a right to be heard, but once a decision has been reached by a majority of the voting members present, the minority must abide by that decision.

Silence is consent.

- Those members who do not vote (abstain) agree to go along with the decision of the majority by their silence.

One question at a time, and one speaker at a time.

- No motion is in order which does not directly relate to the question being considered.
- Once a member has been “granted the floor”, another member may not interrupt him.

Debatable motions must receive full debate.

- The chairperson may not put a motion to vote as long as members wish to debate it. Debate can only be suspended by a two-third vote of members present.

Personal remarks in debate are always out of order.

- Please keep in mind that District 22 (and Area 92) uses Robert’s Rules loosely; we do not use it against each other, but rather to help us conduct business smoothly!

From Robert’s Rules in Plain English , by Doris P. Zimmerman

- Postpone: To delay action on a question until later in the same meeting, or until the next meeting. A motion cannot be postponed further than the next regular meeting.
- Limit Debate: To exercise special control over a debate by: a) Reduce the number and length of speeches allowed; b) limit debate to a period of time, at the end of which a vote must be taken.
- Previous Question (Call For Question): Used to cut off debate and bring group to immediate vote upon the pending motion (the motion on the floor that was stated last).
